Z-FOLDING CONTAINERS

Z-Type Container

Z-type container houses have significant advantages during transportation. After being folded, the height of the container house is only 45 cm, which takes up less space when loading. A 17.5-meter vehicle can easily load 20 containers, greatly reducing transportation costs and improving logistics efficiency.

Z-type container houses feature quick deployment and folding, making them highly flexible and convenient. Whether used as temporary dormitories on construction sites, exhibition display areas, or temporary offices, they can be quickly put into use whenever temporary accommodation or office space is needed.
